

Chris O'Brien
Lifehouse

A gift in memory

Working to transform cancer
treatment and care.

Professor Chris O'Brien AO
3 January 1952 – 4 June 2009

Chris O'Brien Lifehouse is a not-for-profit private hospital, bringing together all the elements of cancer research, treatment, care and support within one single centre of excellence.

We offer the latest research and technology, advanced medical and complementary therapies, as well as emotional support and sanctuary all in one place. We turn new discoveries into cancer treatment and care for our patients.
